

Contradiction Fiction: Supplemental Song

Words by Camille Pauley

Musical Arrangement by Aric Nesheim

© 2021 Healing the Culture

Imagine it was 8 o'clock
But also, it was nine
Could something be a curly cue,
But also a straight line?
And what if you were ten feet tall,
But also five foot two?
And could you keep from making noise
While playing a kazoo?

Refrain: Oh...

Contradictions, they're a fiction.
You can't have it both ways.
Contradictions, they're a fiction.
Up's not down, and squares ain't round

What if it was day and night
Both at the same time?
Or could a gumball be for free
But also cost a dime?
Could you walk around with friends
While you just stood still
Or could you be in Timbuktu
While also in Brazil?

Refrain

Philo and Sophie: Supplemental Song